

Baggage fees (As at: 28.04.2017)

For Lufthansa guests the following fees² apply if their checked baggage meets the allowed pieces but possibly exceeds in weight and/or dimension¹:

Selection of Currency for Charges ¹

Herein, charges may be published in different currencies. In cases where charges are published in more than one currency, the following currencies are used as basis for calculation, however the charges will be converted from this currency into the respective local currency (if applicable):

- CAD (if baggage check-in in Canada)
- EUR (if baggage check-in in Europe)
- JPY^{11/12} (if baggage check-in in Japan)
- IDR (if baggage check-in in Indonesia) *
- USD (if baggage check-in in places other than mentioned before)

Itineraries to/from the US or Canada do have a different allocation of currency. The currency applicable at the point of origin (not the point of baggage check-in) will be used to determine the charges for the whole itinerary. Charges may be converted into the local currency following this selection of currency rule.

If you are travelling with another airline, please contact the operating carrier directly.
